
PRIVACY POLICY

1. Introduction

1.1 Context

The Australian Dermal Science Institute (ADSI) delivers Higher Education qualifications under a third party agreement with the Australasian College of Health & Wellness Pty Ltd. ADSI aims to provide courses which are of high standard to facilitate students to achieve graduate qualities that equip them for their chosen careers.

As part of this, ADSI collects, generate, use, disclose (with permission where required), protect and dispose of the personal information of students in accordance with legislation.

1.2 Purpose

This policy outlines the principles under which ADSI collects, manages, uses, discloses, protects, and disposes of the personal information of students.

1.3 Scope

This Policy and its Procedure apply to all students of ADSI.

This policy applies to all academic and non-academic ADSI volunteers, and members of Boards/Committees, including external members, (collectively referred to as 'staff' in this policy).

1.4 Scope Exceptions

This policy is not intended to apply to information and circumstances other than as provided for in the Privacy Act 1998.

This policy does not apply to staff information and records. Please refer to the Privacy of Staff Information and Records Policy and Procedure.

2. RESPONSIBILITIES

1. ADSI staff are responsible to comply with privacy legislation and this Policy.
2. ADSI students are responsible to comply with privacy legislation and this Policy.

3. POLICY

3.1 Principles

1. ADSI are committed to ensuring confidentiality and privacy in regard to the personal information of students, with the principle of minimum disclosure applied to all academic and administrative practices where a student's personal information is accessed.
2. ADSI uphold the right of students to know how their personal information is managed, used, stored and disposed of.
3. ADSI collect personal information on students to conduct their business and comply with legislation in so doing. This includes personal information about:
 - a) students - including name, contact details, social media addresses, photographs, tax file numbers and other government related identifiers, grades and awards, prior studies, and information resulting from ADSI processes involving a student (e.g., investigation for academic misconduct, academic appeals);
 - b) individuals - related to, or associated with, students (e.g., emergency contacts, medical practitioners), including name and contact details;
 - c) alumni - contact details of past students if they wish to be on an alumni register; and
 - d) prospective students - including name, contact details, and grades and awards, prior studies and information resulting from selection and admission processes (e.g., recognition of prior learning).
4. Personal information of students is used in a number of processes for ADSI business operations, including:
 - a) admission and enrolment;
 - b) academic progress of students;
 - c) course and unit administration;
 - d) student finance administration;
 - e) provision of student services and student wellbeing;
 - f) mandatory reporting and disclosure to government departments- see 3.1.8; and
 - g) discretionary reporting and disclosure to other external bodies - see 3.1.9.
5. ADSI may also use personal information for purposes such as marketing with consent, satisfaction surveys, and complaint and incident reporting.

6. Use of images of students are only used with consent of each student in the image.
7. The confidentiality clauses in this Policy and the Privacy of Student Information Procedure may be overridden by legal or legislated obligations of disclosure – see 3.1.8 and 3.1.9.
8. ADSI are required by legislation to provide student personal information to government departments as follows:
 - a) regular administrative reporting to the Australian government department that manages higher education student support funding and programs;
 - b) verification of eligibility of a student for Centrelink support; and
 - c) Australian Taxation Office –information about the liabilities of students who have elected to defer payment for a range of Commonwealth loans through the taxation system.
9. ADSI release personal information about students in some other circumstances, and this includes to:
 - a) the police, if there is a court order in place, or the student is considered to be at risk, or the student is causing risk to others at ADSI and cannot be managed except by the police;
 - b) the courts, in a civil action;
 - c) other higher education providers or tertiary admissions centres for assessment of eligibility for admission and/or recognition of prior learning;
 - d) external student appeal agencies/ ombudsman.
10. ADSI do not release student personal information to external people, bodies or agencies including parents, spouses or other relatives or friends of the student, or to staff who have no need of the information, unless:
 - a) the student has given written permission to do so; or
 - b) ADSI is required by law to do so; or
 - c) there is an immediate threat to life of the individual student or others.
11. ADSI do not collect sensitive information – see Definitions – unless required to by law or the student has given their consent.
12. ADSI protect student records from misuse, loss, disclosure and unauthorised access and confidentially disposes of student records as required by law.
13. Students may view and edit their personal records through as outlined in the Privacy of Student Information and Records Procedure.

14. ADSI respects an individual's right not to receive marketing material, and provides an option within communications and on its website for individuals to unsubscribe from receiving marketing material. ADSI conducts its marketing communications and dissemination of service information in accordance with Australian Privacy Principle 7 (Direct marketing), the Spam Act 2003 (in respect of electronic communications), and the Do Not Call Register Act 2006. It is not, however, ADSI's practice to 'cold call' for the purpose of marketing its products and services.
15. Student complaints and grievances related to this Policy are managed in accordance with the Student Grievances and Complaints Policy.
